Google's open support for Rs one crore domain ownership fraud of mhow monster ntro employee puneet and others may have inspired puneet agarwal

One of the most popular threads on namepros is how the The founder of Hostgator Brent Oxley was planning to start a new webhosting company create.com and his domains were locked by Godaddy due to a dispute with Puneet Agarwal from India

Google's open support for Rs one crore domain ownership fraud of mhow monster ntro employee puneet and other ntro/raw employees since 2010, on a single woman domain investor may have inspired puneet agarwal

The brahmin mhow monster ntro employee puneet, j srinivasan, tushar parekh, vijay and other ntro/raw employees HATE the single woman domain investor, the btech 1993 ee classmate of the single woman, so in one of the greatest FINANCIAL FRAUDS, they are faking their relationship with the single woman who they have never contacted, and falsely claiming that they own her domains, paypal, bank account to get their real girlfriends like greedy gujju stockbroker asmita patel, indore robber bespectacled deepika who also do not spend any money on domains, raw/cbi jobs at the expense of the single woman

The single woman domain investor is protesting loudly against the CRIMINAL DEFAMATION, FINANCIAL FRAUD which is causing great financial losses, and ruining her reputation, yet google is so ruthless in committing financial fraud on the single woman domain investor, that this financial, online fraud has continued since 2010, without being questioned at all

If the domain investor tries to start any thread on namepros or elsewhere regarding google's domain ownership fraud, the thread is almost always deleted.
